Rocky Mountain College

1962 Yellowstone

The Cross on the Rims - - - A Solid Symbol

Overlooking the Rocky Mountain College Campus from on top of the Rims is a large Cross erected by members of the class of 1956. This simple yet significant symbol of the Christian faith gleams in the sunrise and glows in the sunset. It is visible not only from all sectors of the campus but from a large segment of the Valley of the Yellowstone. It stands as a constant reminder of the Christian heritage and the on-going outlook of our Alma Mater and also to remind all who look upon it of important thoughts so well phrased by Dr. Manfred Meitzen-----"There can be no conflict between God and any knowledge whatsoever.....all work with its attendant knowledge is God's knowledge and His business."

Dedication

It is with great honor that the Class of 1962 and the YELLOWSTONE dedicate this annual to a man who has served the school and the students faithfully throughout the last four years.

When the doors of Rocky Mountain College opened for the fall semester in 1958, there entered not only a new class but also a new administration. This administration had many ideas as to how they could improve the institution.

Our guest of honor in the past four years has done much to gain the confidence and respect of both the students and faculty while working toward his goal.

He has served as friend and advisor to many students, and their lives have been made better because of this relationship.

It is for these reasons and many more that we dedicate the 1962 YELLOWSTONE to Mr. John C. Filby.

In Memoriam

During the 1961-62 school year, Rocky Mountain College was saddened by the death of David Flom, a sophomore from Westminster, Colorado.

The tragic accident struck an especially heavy blow to those students who had come to know Dave well in his year and a half at RMC.

An ardent rodeo fan and participant, Dave had transplanted the desire to excel from the saddle to the classroom. He was always willing to give all that he could offer to better himself and those around him.

FOREWORD

We, the Annual Staff, hope that the pictures and thoughts contained within these covers will bring back pleasant memories of the 1961-1962 school year. As the years pass swiftly by, may you open the 1962 YELLOWSTONE and be reminded of the many happy days that you spent on this campus.

There are many new and unique ideas presented here, and it is our desire that you will enjoy these and treasure your copy of the 1962 YELLOWSTONE through the years.

President's Message

Greetings and congratulations to the Class of 1962.

We arrived at Rocky Mountain College together in the fall of 1958, you as freshmen and I as a neophyte in the college president's chair.

These four years have seen many changes. The library has been brought to a state of completion, a new women's residence hall and a new student union building have been added, the faculty has been enlarged, and the curriculum expanded; but more than that, there has been increasing evidence of the growing maturity of the student body. Your leadership has been most helpful in creating the new look at Rocky Mountain College.

I say goodbye with a certain sense of regret since no other class will have quite the relationship to the president as this one. At the same time I am pleased to welcome you into a new relationship with the college as co-workers with the president as loyal alumni. I am quite certain that you will take your enthusiasm and appreciation for the changing Rocky Mountain College into the alumni association.

We look forward to your return at the October Homecoming.

Our best wishes go with you into your chosen fields of service.

I am inclined to close this message with an old Latin phrase that has been used many times - pax vobiscum.

Memo from the Dean

Have you watched a cartoonist at work? Often he has a way of sketching his characters so that they cannot be recognized until the last line is in place, the line that really makes the difference.

Soon you will be concluding an important chapter in your life, and I would suggest here that there is an essential line in the image of the educated man. It is his concern for the spiritual outreach of life, involving an awareness of the meaning of his manhood, of the endless possibilities for human betterment, or nature's ever-broadening horizons, of the truths that lead to the truth divine. Thus, his life develops from within, his hospitalities are for the highest, his identification is with the best he knows. To the deep, demanding seriousness of life he brings the joy of believing in a task worth doing, in a cause worth serving, in a world in which he feels truly at home.

May you, indeed, live better and work better for the years spent in college.

Mrs. Dora Allwardt
Dorm Counselor

Mrs. A has been like a second mother to a great number of girls since she first came to Rocky in 1956. As dorm counselor of Kimball and then the new Women's Residence Hall she has been a guiding hand to a majority of the female population of R.M.C. She will be obviously absent when the next school term begins. The men of Rocky will also miss her friendly attitude when they pick up their dates at the dorm.

Thank You and Farewell . . .

Mr. Warren Stegner
Education Professor

After eight years of dedication to his job and his students, Mr. Warren Stegner is retiring from his position as education instructor at Rocky. Mr. Stegner has dedicated himself throughout his life to bettering education wherever he has traveled. Because of this he has gained the respect and friendship of countless students and educators. Rocky will miss him greatly.

The Church and Rocky

Carol Clark was in charge of hospitality for the week's activities.

Rev. Gruman talks informally to members of the faculty and administration at a tea in his honor.

RELIGION IN LIFE WEEK

The Reverend Lawrence Gruman leader of R L Week.

Dr. Mixon and Bob Thibeault discuss the publicity angle of RL Week.

Isaac Martin led the devotions committee which arranged Morning Watch services.

RELIGIOUS LIFE COUNCIL

Working with the Chaplain as the members of the Religious Life Council are Kendra Boyden, JoAnn Kagie, Zoe Ahl, Carol Clark in the first row. John Babcock, Dave Spencer, Al Fries and Ron Nelson are in the back row.

The Religious Life Council, an organization of students chosen from the various classes and clubs on the campus, was headed this year by John Babcock, the Religious Life Commissioner of the Student Council. It planned the religious functions of RMC for the year. The most important of these are the Church Vocations Conference and Religious Life Week. Working with the Chaplain, the RLC strives to promote religion at Rocky.

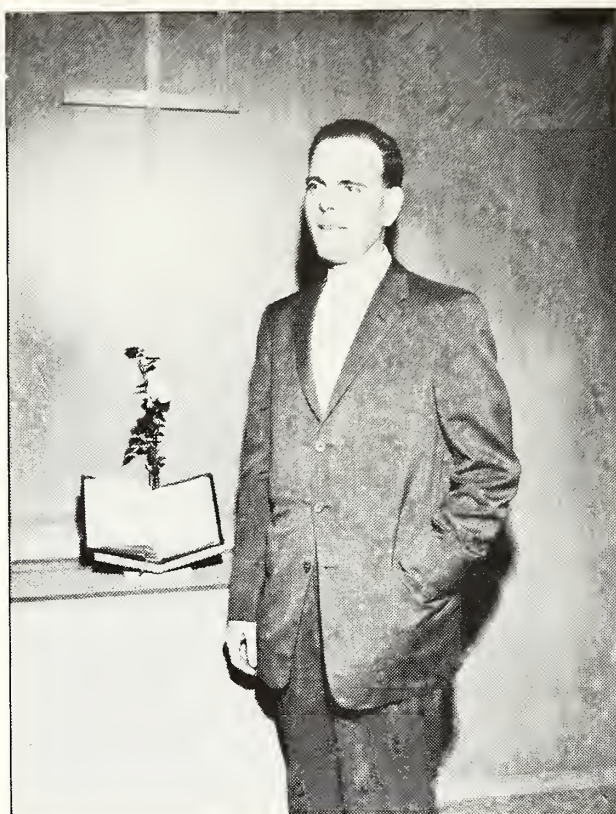

Skypilots is an interdenominational group of Christian students who meet regularly to discuss many varied and interesting subjects pertaining to religion and the world. President Dave Spencer and his cabinate also planned several work projects during the year.

SKYPILOTS

Chaplain's Meditation

The highest privilege in college, it appears to me, involves our encounter and association with other members of the academic community, our fellow-students, the faculty and administration, and friends of the campus. We recognize increasingly that people are the final products of our beloved institution. We measure our successes and failures, our joys and our sorrows by our relationship with others. Organizations come and go; meetings are attended or missed; and in it all, the enriching fellowship on campus makes us aware of the deepened satisfactions in knowing and loving other human beings throughout the years.

Whether it is in the inspiration of Chapel, the quiet privacy of the Bunch Memorial Chapel, the enlightenment of an assembly program, the give-and-take of classroom discussion, informal sessions in the dormitory, or table-talk in the Student Union, our associations together provide for an exchange not only of ideas but of opinions, value-judgments, and the sharing of attitudes as well, and we grow as a result. This is what makes college worthwhile.

And yet beneath these matters stands One whose presence and spirit have made our college possible. What we find to be of true worth, or worth-ship, we would share with others. We have begun to discover that our faith takes on new dimensions when we relate it to our pursuit of knowledge; it may divert from some older patterns, but it grows and enlarges in ways never before known. It is this same faith which keeps us active, alert, and concerned.

I cherish these high privileges with you and hope that your review of the 1962 Yellowstone Annual will bring to mind the future as well as the past.

CHURCH VOCATIONS CONFERENCE

Early April found the campus filled with high school students from Montana and Wyoming who were attending the Fourth Annual Church Vocations Conference. This annual affair serves as a medium through which students interested in church-allied fields may gain insight and information. Students come mainly from churches of the three supporting denominations of the College.

STUDENT UNION BUILDING

The new Student Union Building of Rocky Mountain College was completed in October, 1961. Housing the dining hall and snack bar facilities of Saga Food Service, it also includes a lounge with fireplace, gameroom, bookstore, and Student Council office.

WOMEN'S RESIDENCE HALL

Also completed in the autumn of 1961, the new Women's Residence Hall gives the women students of Rocky modern and comfortable rooms in which to live. There is a reception lounge where the women may receive visitors at any time during the day.

Tyler Hall, the upperclass men's dorm, is the newest of the three men's halls. It is constructed of native sandstone, as are most of the buildings on campus.

Alden Hall, in the past a women's dorm, is occupied principally by sophomore men.

ALDEN

Kimball Hall was used this year mainly as a guest house for visitors. In the past it has been a women's dorm; next year it will be a residence hall for men.

The first building seen upon entering the campus, Kenney Hall is the home away from home for the freshmen male students of RMC.

KENNEY

LIBRARY

One of the additions of which Rocky is rightfully proud is the new library. This structure and its facilities are available to aid the serious student with his studies.

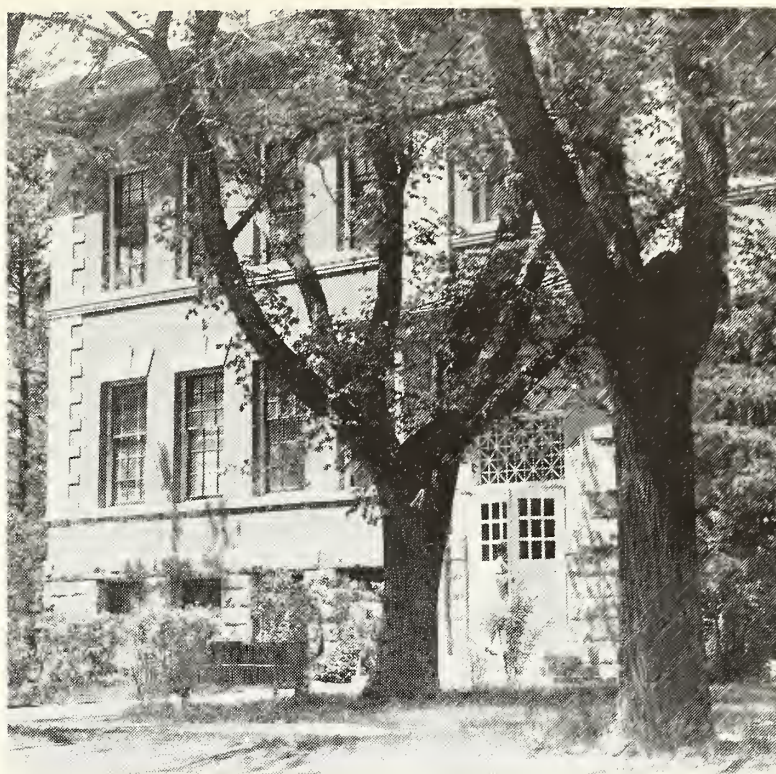

The Gymnasium serves as practice base for the Bear's basketball team, for intra-murals and for physical education classes.

GYMNASIUM

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

The Administration Building, first science building erected on the school site, is now home of the administrative officials of RMC and houses the chemistry department and print shop.

Losekamp Hall, a sandstone building, serves as a meeting place for chapel and assembly each week. The music staff, in addition, has its headquarters here.

LOSEKAMP HALL

TECHNOLOGY
BUILDING

The Technology Building is home base for the maintenance crew of RMC. It also houses the Western College of Auctioneering as well as the math and physics classes.

Prescott Commons, one-time "chow hall," is now used as a rehearsal hall for the RMC band. Previously Saga served many of its delicious meals in the Commons.

MONTANA HALL

Montana Hall serves as a classroom for many science, English and education classes.

The Mall greets each visitor as he approaches the campus. Its green grass and beautiful view invite him to stay at Rocky Mountain College.

1961 GRIDIRON BEARS

Coach Frank Mathew

In a tough conference this year the Rocky eleven compiled a 2-3 record, finishing the season in fifth place. A bright spot of the season was Ron Maloney being named to the Second Team All-Conference Squad. Lacking mainly experience, the Bears ended the season with a chant: Wait 'til next year.

'61 BASKETBALL BRUINS '62

The 1961-62 Bears of Coach Herb Klindt ran into a little trouble on the court this year as they struggled through an 8-15 season. This included a 4-6 mark and a fourth place in the Montana Collegiate Conference. High scoring John Sheron was named to the All-Conference team to cap an outstanding career. In addition to Sheron, Klindt will lose Bob Williamson and Lee Dorr. Four experienced players, John Fagan, Ron Nelson, Stan Holmquist, and Larry Nees will form the nucleus of next year's squad.

1962 THINCLADS

John Wilcox paces Jim Hofmann and two Eastern runners in the 880.

Rocky's track squad was small compared to other schools in the MCC; however, the Bears gave all their foes a run for the money. Missing from next year's "Running Bears" will be graduating seniors Dick Whited, and John Wilcox, holder of the new conference record in the mile at 4:34:5. Ron Wirtz a sophomore, qualified for the NAIA meet in Sioux Falls, S.D. by his performance in the shotput.

1962 DIAMOND SQUAD

The 1962 baseball squad of Coach Herb Klindt defeated Eastern once in two contests and downed the tough Mines team of Butte in Montana Collegiate Conference action to make an otherwise poor season bearable. The Bears had several veterans on their squad in Lance Mocabee, Rusty Redfield, Ken Bondy, Bill Moss, and Ron Nelson but never were really able to get started. Coach Klindt will lose only one senior from this squad, outfielder Mocabee, so that the future may be a bright and shining star. Making the prospects even brighter are freshmen such as Gordy Balog behind the plate and Carl Palma at third base.

INTRAMURALS

Coach Frank Mathew once again organized a winter intramural program for the RMC men. There was competition in basketball and volleyball. Basketball was an all-male sport but when the nets were assembled in the gymnasium, the female population of Rocky donned their sneakers to make volleyball a co-educational sport. This year, the Vet's Village court team captained by John Wrzesinski won the trophy with Saga Food and Boyd's Coffee in hot pursuit. The volleyball championship was captured by the team captained by John Sheron. Those squads led by Lee Dorr and Ron Wirtz were not far behind in the standings.

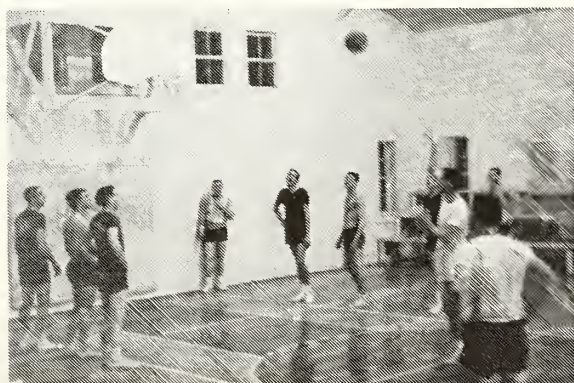

Joe Cross of Boyd's and Pat O'Brien of the Shacks go after the tip as action begins in the semi-finals of the intramural tournament.

Larry Granbois takes a hook shot as his team, the Shacks, downed Boyd's Coffee in an important contest.

Marv Olson converts the first of two foul shots as Tyler III lost to Saga Food.

PATTY

LAVERNE

No football or basketball game is complete without a squad of peppy cheerleaders. Rocky's squad includes Patty Personett, Sharon Hilbert, LaVerne Salley, and Mazie Stocker. This quartet supplied the needed spark to cheer the Bears on.

RMC
CHEERLEADERS

Hooray for the Bears! They're going to fight!
They're going to win! Three cheers for ROCKY

A STUDY OF EXPRESSION

One of the best ways to enjoy a basketball game is to watch the facial expressions of an enthusiastic cheerleader. Take the case of our own Mazie. When the Bears are ahead she has a winning smile; when the Men of Klindt are losing, there is agony on her face. In this trio of pictures, Mazie demonstrates some of the contortions the face of a cheerleader may go through.

Oh no, not another two points for Harvey. We have to stop him.

Oh please, don't let Eastern score another basket! We have to beat them.

Moments to Remember

"First we figure out the courses that we would like to take. This takes a lot of time and energy. We are finally satisfied with our choices and then . . .

we travel to Mr. Buck's table and he tells us that his Zoology class is filled. We shall have to try to work Anatomy into our schedule."

REGISTRATION

Each student was to have his picture taken for the YELLOWSTONE. Here Lynda Kay Moore poses for photographer Carp.

"But Mr. Clark, I want to take some easy courses and not just those tough business classes."

The helter-skelter of registration finds students busily running from place to place and teachers pulling their hair out.

"Steam up to win" was the Vet's Village float.

A goalpost entry from Tyler Hall was also given honorable mention.

DEDICATIONS

The school year of 1961-62 marked a significant step forward for Rocky especially in the area of plant expansion. Student services were greatly expanded with the opening of the new Women's Residence Hall and the new Student Union-Dining Hall Building. Constructed at a cost of approximately $750,000, these new structures that brighten the campus were dedicated on October 29, 1961

Dr. Ronald Ries, president of the RMC board of trustees left, and President Widenhouse place documents in the commemorative stone during dedication ceremonies in the Student Union Building.

The tradition of Rocky of bringing to the college and Billings community top flight musical productions was not only carried on this year but enhanced to a considerable degree. The all-college production of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Carousel" brought three polished performances to the stage of Losekamp Hall. It was standing-room only and many had to be turned away because of the lack of seats. May this quality continue in the years to come.

J. B. is told more bad news by a civil defense worker. This is one of the many dramatic scenes in this tragedy.

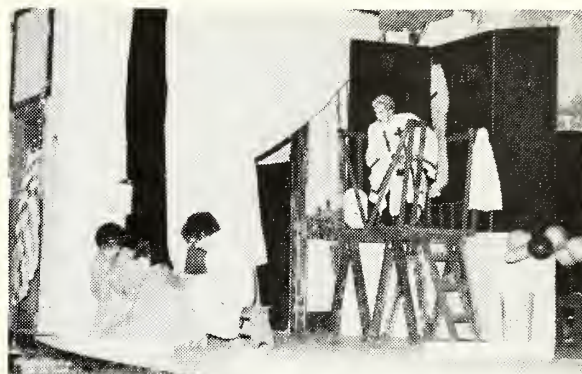

A newspaperman (Dave Spencer) demonstrates how he will get a reaction from J.B. after giving him more tragic news.

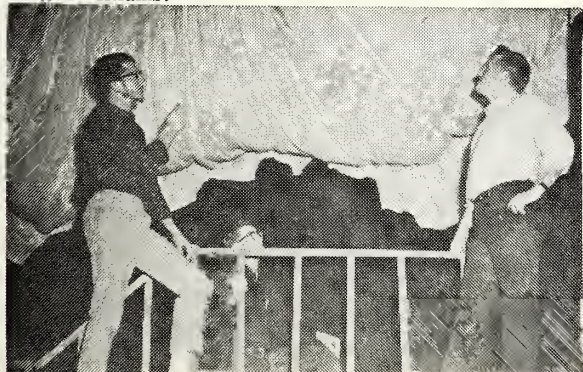

SARAH, Sandra Ritchey

The Yellowstone salutes vigorously members of the all-Freshman cast for their outstanding ability in bringing to the Rocky stage, Archibald MacLeish's Pulitzer prize-winning drama, "J. B. " This powerful play demanded the best of everyone in it (and got it). After sustaining this difficult play, these players need not be hesitant about attempting others that will require effort and ability.

Several old pauper women huddle in the street and discuss their plight.

Hal Mathew and Roger Hawthorne, principal characters in the drama, inspect some of the set with stage manager Roger Williams.

NICKLES, Roger Hawthorne

Rocky's Male Quartet had many singing engagements this year. The reasons for the success were the voices of Terry West, Howard Hunter, Dick Hill and Dave Spencer.

CHOIR

The fortunate forty who were talented enough to qualify for membership in the RMC Concert Choir in 1961-62 had a rare experience during this year. Invited by the Performing Arts Division of Seattle's Century 21, they performed at the World's Fair on Montana Day, April 28. The tour to the fair was the most extensive in the history of the choir organization.

Six RMC female voices blended harmoniously to form the Girls Sextet. Its members were Cindy Hepler, Mary Pena, Pat Vernon, Betty Ginther, Betty Vernon, and Sandi Ritchey.

BAND

On more than one occasion during the year spirit might have sagged considerably if it hadn't been for the powerful punch of the Rocky Mountain College Band. This fine organization was always on hand to help put pep into the Bears home contests. Its symphonic concerts, when members switched to more formal garb, were enjoyed during the year.

AWS Fashion Show

President Gary Shepherd presents Miss RMC, Sandi Rundle, with roses from the Class of 1962.

The AWS held its annual fashion show in the SUB on May 17. At this time, Sharon Hilbert displayed Cherry Blossom wardrobe, Sandi Rundle was chosen as Miss RMC and Mrs. A. was honored by the organization. In addition five girls modeled dresses of local merchants. The models were Carol Steinmetz, Carol Clark, Mary Dickinson, Maureen Chamberlain, and Patty Personett.

They told me the faculty had to help, so I decided to hold this shovel and look busy," answers Coach Mathew to the cameraman's question. "What are you doing here?"

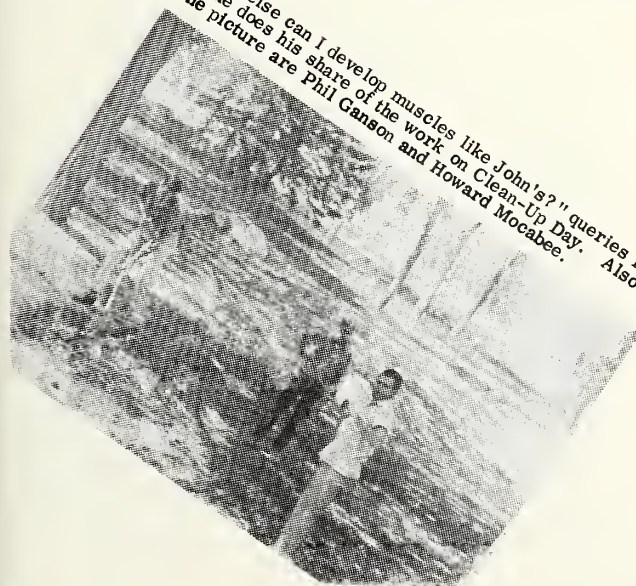

Boys, this is cleanup day! (Charlie Harman, Don Hagg, Harrington, and Larry Harlan)

CLEANUP DAY

One of the squads which was in charge of raking on Clean-Up Day. The helpful hands are (L-R) Norm Girard, Matt Green, Mary Gammel, Betty Ginther, Jeanne Gross, Dan Greenaway, Bob Gergen, Ken Gilbert, and Bill Gillick.

"How else can I develop muscles like John's?" queries Driz as he does his share of the work on Clean-Up Day. Also in the picture are Phil Ganson and Howard Mocabee.

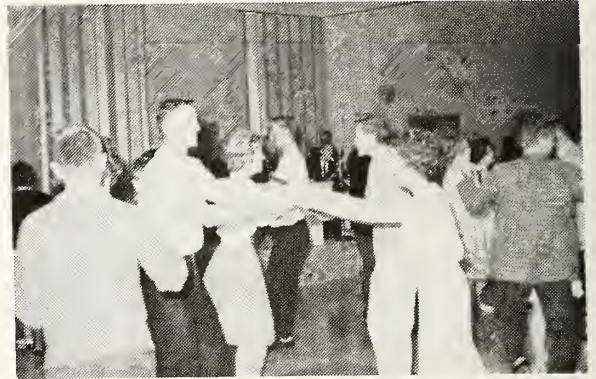

A busy crew of RMC students rake the leaves from the front lawn of the library. This was part of the annual Clean-Up Day held each spring.

And Then There Was...

Undergoing the treeing routine which requires dexterity as well as clarity in cuckoo calling is Larry Nees. Nees was among several new lettermen who submitted to the annual initiation of Rho Alpha Rho, the RMC lettermen's fraternity.

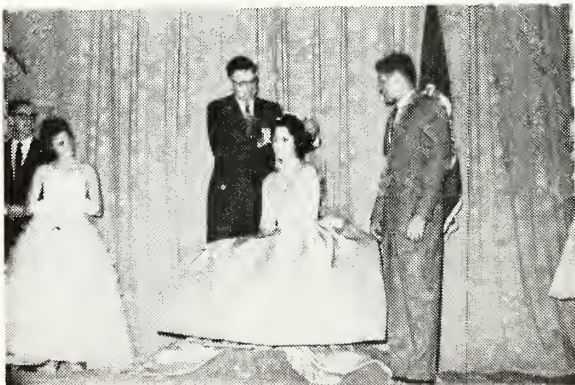

Another new era of inter-college relationship was entered into in 61-62 with some exchange dances between Eastern and Rocky. Athletic rivalry was forgotten on these occasions and good times were had by all.

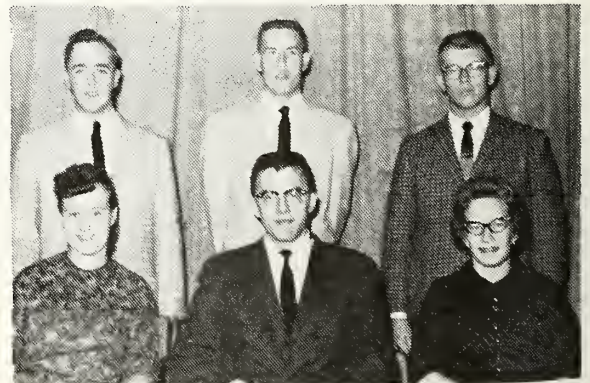

A good time was had by all on the choir trip.

President Widenhouse is placing the crown on the lovely tresses of Sandra Hill, the 1961 Homecoming Queen. Watching are John Hertel, Zoe Ahl, and escort Ron Frost.

These members of the student council attended the regional conference in Boulder, Colorado, in the fall. First row is Bernos Barker, Bob Williams, and JoAnn Kagie. Rear row consists of Don Hofmann, Frank Belts, and Dick Bylund. They were accompanied by Dr. Hadley.

MISS RMC

Sandra Rundle, the 1961 Mistletoe Princess, was awarded additional honors as she was selected as Miss RMC of 1962. This was the first step on the way to the Miss America pageant in Atlantic City, New Jersey. Miss Rundle was selected on the AWS Fashion Show from a field of five beautiful Rocky women.

MISTLETOE PRINCESS

1961 Mistletoe Princess was Sandra Rundle from Glasgow, Montana. Sandy, a freshman, is majoring in physical education and minoring in art.

HOMECOMING QUEEN

Sandra Hill, Billings, Montana, was crowned 1961-1962 Homecoming Queen. Sandy, a Junior, is majoring in German and minoring in French.

SWEETHEART

Mazie Stocker reigned as 1961-1962 Sweetheart. Mazie, a Sophomore from Butte, Montana, is majoring in Biology and minoring in chemistry.

CHERRY BLOSSOM PRINCESS

Sharon Hilbert, a Junior from Malta, Montana, was chosen 1962 State Cherry Blossom Princess. Sharon's major is English, her minor French.

MOST ELIGIBLE BACHELOR

Sweetheart Mazie Stocker crowned Ken Bondy from Fort Peck, Montana, 1961-1962 Most Eligible Bachelor. A Sophomore, Ken is majoring in biology.

MONTANA'S REPRESENTATIVE
IN THE CHERRY
BLOSSOM FESTIVAL

SHARON HILBERT

Chet Jones, RMC Alumni Association pins an orchid corsage on Sharon as she boards a plane for Washington, D. C. and her week of festivities.

Sharon Hilbert, a sophomore from Malta, was honored in April by being named Montana representative in the annual Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington, D. C.. Sharon spent a week in Washington escorted by Navy Lt. Everett Patrick Curley. There was a full week of activities including receptions and formals. The climax of the event came when the judges spun the wheel which gave two girls an added thrill of being named the 1962 Cherry Blossom Princess.

Members Together

ROBERT WILLIAMS
ASRMC President

STUDENT COUNCIL

STEVE DYCHE      DALE WICK

The Rocky Mountain College Student Council was led this year by Bob Williams, a senior from Richey. Serving under Bob were Frank Belts - Vice President; Sharon Hilbert, JoAnn Kagie and Wayne Valentine - Representatives-at-large; Dale Wick - Senior Class Representative; Don Hofmann - Junior Class Representative; Don Brown - Sophomore Class Representative; and Dick Bylund - Freshman Class Representative. Steve Dyche Handled the finances of the group while Bernos Barker and Ruth Workentine served as secretaries. Dr. Murphy and Mr. Clark were the ASRMC advisors. In addition, there were commissioners for each important phase of campus life. The purpose of the Student Council is to give the students a government of their own. This body acts as an intermediate between the administration and the ASRMC. Listed among the accomplishments of this year's council were the decoration of the campus at Christmastime, becoming a member of the NSA, and promotion of better relations with Eastern Montana College.

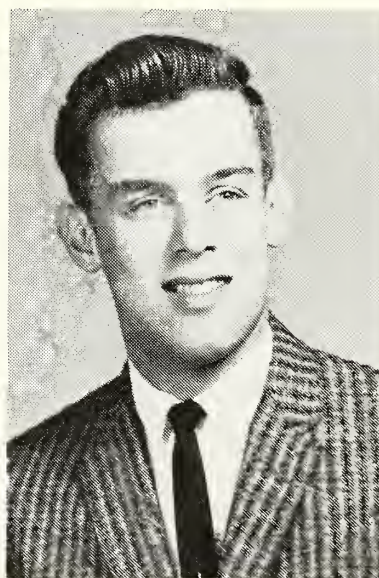

AWS

Carol Dickinson headed AWS this academic year and did a good job of banding the women students together to work on many worthwhile projects. Mrs. Van de Mark took the sponsorship along with her duties as dean of women.

BERNOS BARKER
Editor of the ECHO

WAYNE VALENTINE
Editor of the YELLOWSTONE

THE YELLOWSTONE

The Yellowstone, an annual affair, edited this year by Wayne Valentine succeeds well in throwing a final spotlight on all the activities of the year. Wayne and his crew worked hard to produce a bit of nostalgia for all the students and especially the graduates.

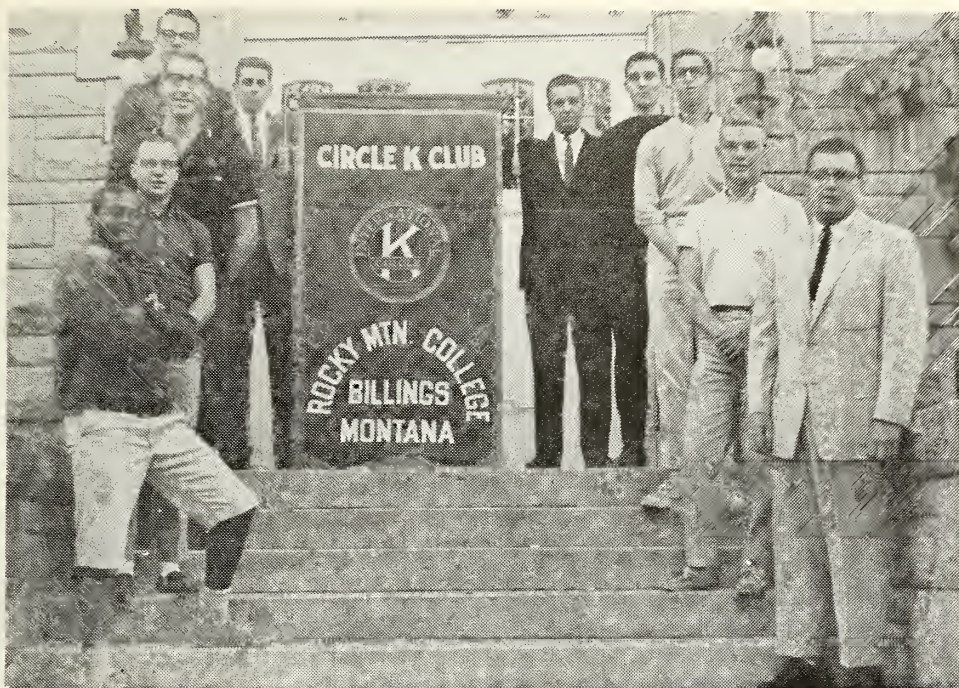

The ECHO, the weekly publication of Rocky Mountain College, was edited this year by Bernos Barker. Each issue contained news of campus happenings to keep the students informed. Miss Barker was assisted by Bob Thiebault and Dr. Phares Mixon was the newspaper's advisor.

THE ECHO

CIRCLE K

Circle K is the college affiliation of the Kiwanis Club. It is a service club and helped this year wherever it was needed on campus or in the community. Some of the projects it participated in were the distributing of apples for the Kiwanis Club and the painting of signs on campus. John Babcock was president of the club this year and Mr. John Filby acted as advisor.

Rho Alpha Rho, an honorary letterman's fraternity was headed this year by John Hertel. The lettermen of course, provide a major interest on campus through the sports activities. Working with their sponsor Coach Herb Klindt, they provided a dance, steak-fry and ushers for recitals, productions, etc.

RHO ALPHA RHO

SEA

SEA, Rocky's branch of the MEA acted as the link to the teaching profession for the prospective teachers enrolled at Rocky. Frank Belts led the local club as president. The club sponsored programs to acquaint students with the situations that they will face on the job. Rocky also sent representatives to the state convention in Helena.

The Young Republicans were the only political club represented on campus this year, and Jim Skillen was president of the small but busy group. They helped out the Republicans in the state by canvassing areas, providing entertainment for conventions and helping on campaigns.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS

The Young Republican officers this year were Kendra Boyden, secretary; Jim Skillen, President; and Dennis Casey, vice-president.

RODEO CLUB

Members of the RMC Rodeo Club are ready for some tough practice in the saddle. (L-R) - Buck Colby, Dale Little Soldier, and John Wrzesinski.

The RMC Rodeo Club was small in number but large in prestige. The Bear Cowboys claimed two of the best cowboys in the Northwest area in John Wrzesinski and Dale Little Soldier. Both men qualified for the National Rodeo finals to be held late in June.

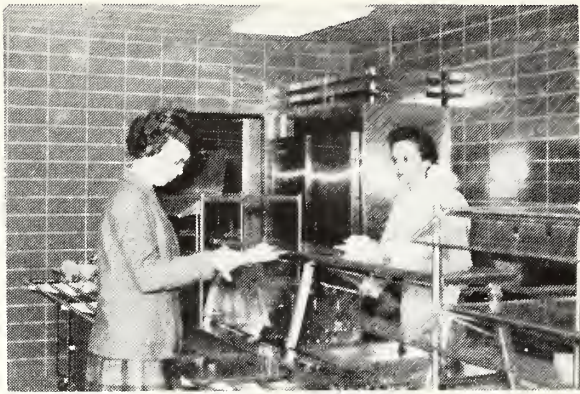

Skiing came into its own as a winter activity and competitive sport at Rocky this winter through the efforts of president, Don Nicoll and sponsor, Dr. Arthur Buhl. Nicoll and Chas. Hamway helped to promote interest by bringing a few points from ski meets around the state.

SKI CLUB

Smiling for the camera are members of the RMC Ski Club. They are Charlie Hamway, Dave McKay, Maureen Chamberlain, and Sue Myrick in the first row. Standing behind them are Ken Hector, Don Nicoll, Carol Steinmetz, and Don Choate.

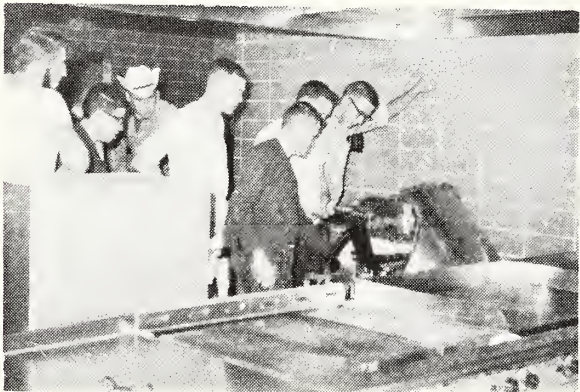

Carol Clark is served breakfast by Carol Dickinson on opening day in the SUB.

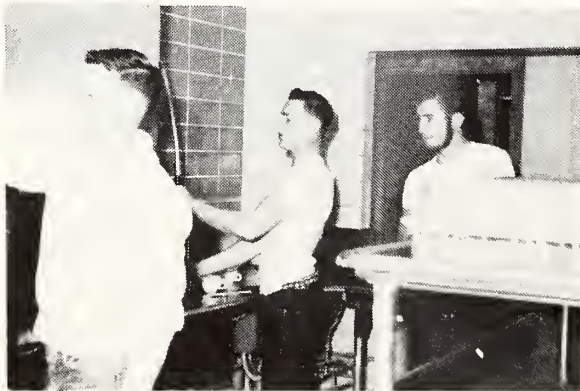

Mazie Stocker and Tom Widenhouse operate the Saga Snack-bar.

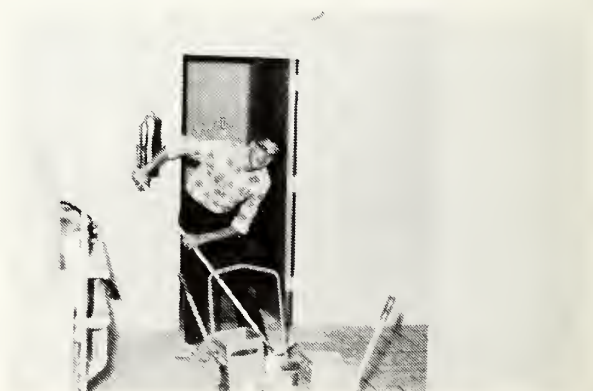

In informal attire, Driz explains to his boys how the steam pot works.

CHOW'S ON

Three members of an efficient dish crew, Dale Wick, Norm Girard, and Lee Dorr, put the finishing touches on the cleaning-up process.

Dave Anderson is swabbing the deck in preparation for the Student Union opening in October.

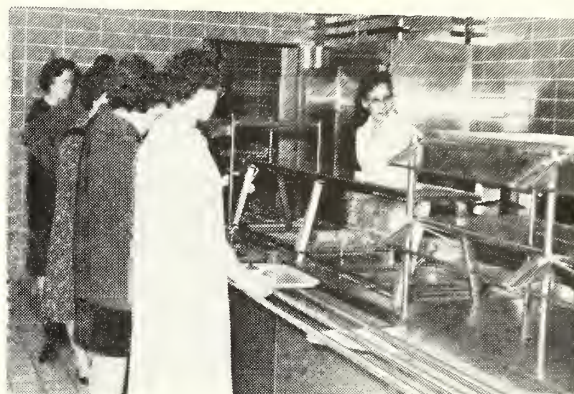

Shaker Yaghi receives his serving of veal cutlets, a college favorite, from the waitresses in the cafeteria line.

John Sheron, headwaiter, shows the crew exactly what to do after the electricity went off.

SAGA FOOD

With class schedules being what they are, the waitresses have to serve for approximately an hour. Here Patty Personett asks, "Ham or Tuna?" to members of the choir.

Pat Vernon, an off-campus student, is waited on by Mazie for a light lunch, usually consisting of french fries and a hamburger.

A candid view of the new dining hall with some of the 250 students that Saga serves. Also in the picture are several of the auctioneers from the Western College of Auctioneering.

SAGA FOOD SERVICE

A portion of the efficient Saga Food crew are pictured with "Driz" Seibert, John Sheron, Dave Anderson, Dale Wick, Leighton Zeigler, Della Ross and Elaine Robertson forming the line.

Saga Food, a national food service, has been in charge of the feeding of the Rocky resident students for three years. Saga, under the management of William "Driz" Seibert, runs a snack bar and provides banquets in the new SUB in addition to the three meals that it supplies each day. Driz is ably assisted by John Sheron, headwaiter, and Tom Widenhouse, manager of the snack bar. There are also an efficient dish crew and a snappy staff of waitresses. All these factors make meal time at Rocky a very pleasant occasion.

The "I" Club was a newly organized club on campus this year. Its membership was made up of foreign students and those students who were interested in foreign affairs. Joe Awad, the club's first president, played a major role in getting the club on its feet. Some of the topics discussed were the Berlin Crisis, Africa, and the American foreign policy. Mrs. Van de Mark served as the club's advisor.

I CLUB

WOMEN'S RESIDENCE HALL

Those girls living on the first floor of the WRH are (bottom to top) Sandi Ritchey, Cindy Hepler, Carol Clark, Jeanne Gross, Barbara Reini, Kendra Boyden, Marlene Posey, May Peterson, Judy Olson, Marjorie Jozuiak, Betty Ginther, Isabelle Ripley, Kathy McIntyre, Kathy Fine, Mrs. Aliwardt, Leilani Aki, Joani Jorgenson, Kathy Ramaker, Sharon McBride, Marion Bateman, Rita Blair, Rayna Ball, Sue Myrick, Carol Steinmetz and Barbara Bergman.

"May I help you?" queries D'Lynn French.

Della Ross goes through the nightly process of signing out as Mrs. A. stands by. Sharelle Hayden, the desk clerk, appears interested in a phone conversation.

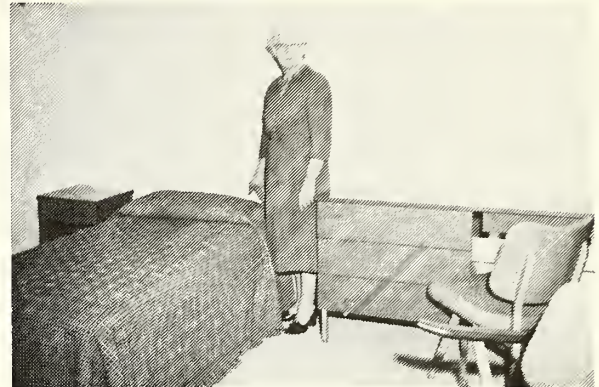

Higher, higher, and higher goes a pyramid in the lounge of the girls' dorm. On the bottom are Sylvia Zuroff, Patty Personett, Mazie Stocky and Carol Norbo. In the center are Mary Ann Hamlin, Cindy Hepler, and Kathy Remwick. At the summit are Laverne Salley, Jo Ann Kagie, and Kay Dorr.

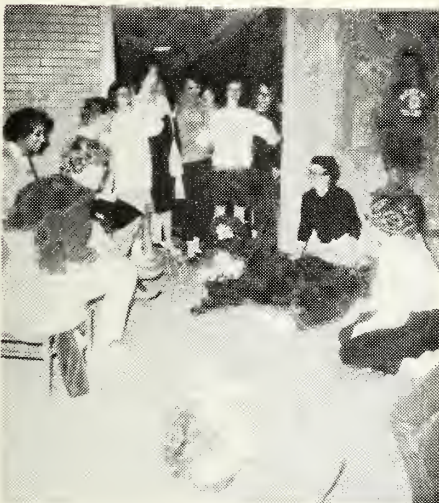

Occupying the second floor rooms of the women's dorm are (bottom to top) Mazie Stocker, Patty Personett, JoAnn Kagie, Linda Tjaden, Pat Darling, Mrs. Allwardt, Kathy Montreuil, Kathy Renwick, LaVerne Salley, Shirley Han, D'Lynn French, Mary Gammel, Ruth Jean Van Fassen, Elaine Robertson, Carolyn Barrett, Betsy Sue Sullenberger, Mary Ann Hamlin, Lynda Pobanz, Mary Dickinson, Rae Bowen, Carol Norbo, Ruth Workentine, Nancy Hawkins, and Sharon Hilbert.

Mrs. A., the dorm counselor, is always willing to give a guided tour of the dorm for parents and friends of the college.

Maverick must be on TV. The women seem to be intensely interested in what is going on in the direction of the television set.

A good time is had by all whether it is clowning around or relaxing as demonstrated by this picture.

Sharon Hilbert irons a blouse as LaVerne Salley snoops in one of the cabinets in the kitchenette of the WRH. Looking for something to eat, LaVerne?

KENNEY HALL

First Row - Charlie Hamwey, Mrs. Turner, Stan Holmquist, Frank Stanchfield, Harry Harrington, Bob Dolderer. Second Row - Jay Olson, Ray Walters, Gordon Balog, Nevin Sponseller, Dennis Casey, Jim Freeman, Larry Harlan, Mike Kosorok, Ed Piesen. Third Row - Neil Henderson, Tom Williams, Jim Endicott, Mike Galvin, Larry Nees, Mert Rustad, Jim Anderson, Bill Ruddy, Dave Spencer. Fourth Row - Todd Tupy, Dave Howell, Carlo Emirio, John Pardales, Jack Schye, Jim Decker, Steve Caddell, Dan Greenaway, Dick Dare. Fifth Row - Jim Messer, Ken Hector, Matt Green, Richie Kleeman, Ed Taylor, Dave McConnell, Frank Richter, Roger O'Neil, and Bert Solle.

Carlo Emirio works on his drawings for his architectural course. It may not be the most comfortable position around but Carlo likes it.

"Mert, no more noise after nine o'clock," warns Mrs. Turner, the Kenney Hall dorm mother, after having caught Mert in the act.

TYLER HALL

First Row - Stewart Wolbach, Bill Gillick, Gary Mikos, Ron Maloney, Leroy Ortega, Ed Moyers, Jerry Hirsh, Dan Hill. Second Row - Mr. Christianson, Bob Byfield, Don Hofmann, Wayne Valentine, John Babcock, Lyman Smith, Gary Haynes, Lee Dorr, Dick Ericksen, Marv Olson, Bill Baringer, Dick Novark, Ken Bondy, Ron Wangrud, Paul Diefenbruch, and Dale Wick.

ALDEN HALL

Dave Silverman lines up for a shot on the pool table while Bill Gillick waits for his turn.

Approximately 250 made the SUB their mealtime headquarters for the three meals a day. In addition, several banquets such as the Yule Log dinner were served.

Ed Moyers, Student Union Commissioner, cues a record so that the students might eat, study, and relax to music.

THE STUDENT UNION BUILDING

The Student Union Building served the students for the first time during the 1961-62 school year. The SUB is a place where the students can meet for chatting, studying, or just relaxing. Saga Food has its dining hall facilities to feed the students in the building. There is also a snack bar operated by Saga for nibbling on hamburgers and fries during most of the day. A book store supplies the student with many of the things that he needs for school work. A game room and a lounge with a television set occupies the student's leisure time.

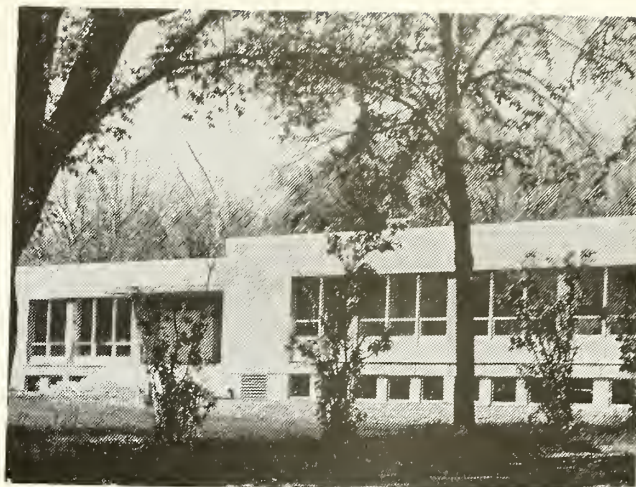

The faculty and staff take time out after dinner to chat about everything imaginable.

A cold winter night finds several students curled up in front of the TV set. There is also a modern fireplace which will warm the heart and feet.

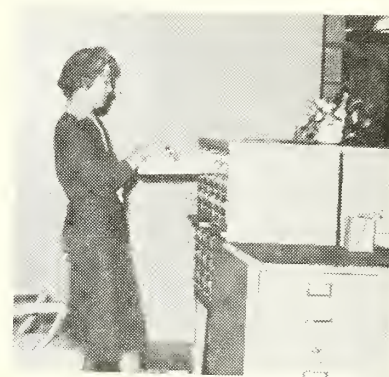

Spring or Winter, the Library is used by the student.

THE LIBRARY

A treasure house of truth and wisdom located at the hub of the campus is the Paul M. Adams Memorial Library. Here Rocky students, who seek to gain the most from their college experience, spend many hours in communication with the great minds of the ages. During 1961-62, the library's collection of great books continued to grow at an accelerated pace. New stacks were added to the lower level stacking area and additional furnishings were secured for the comfortable and inviting first floor reading areas.

Mrs. Whittier checks the card catalog as she searches for a book for a student.

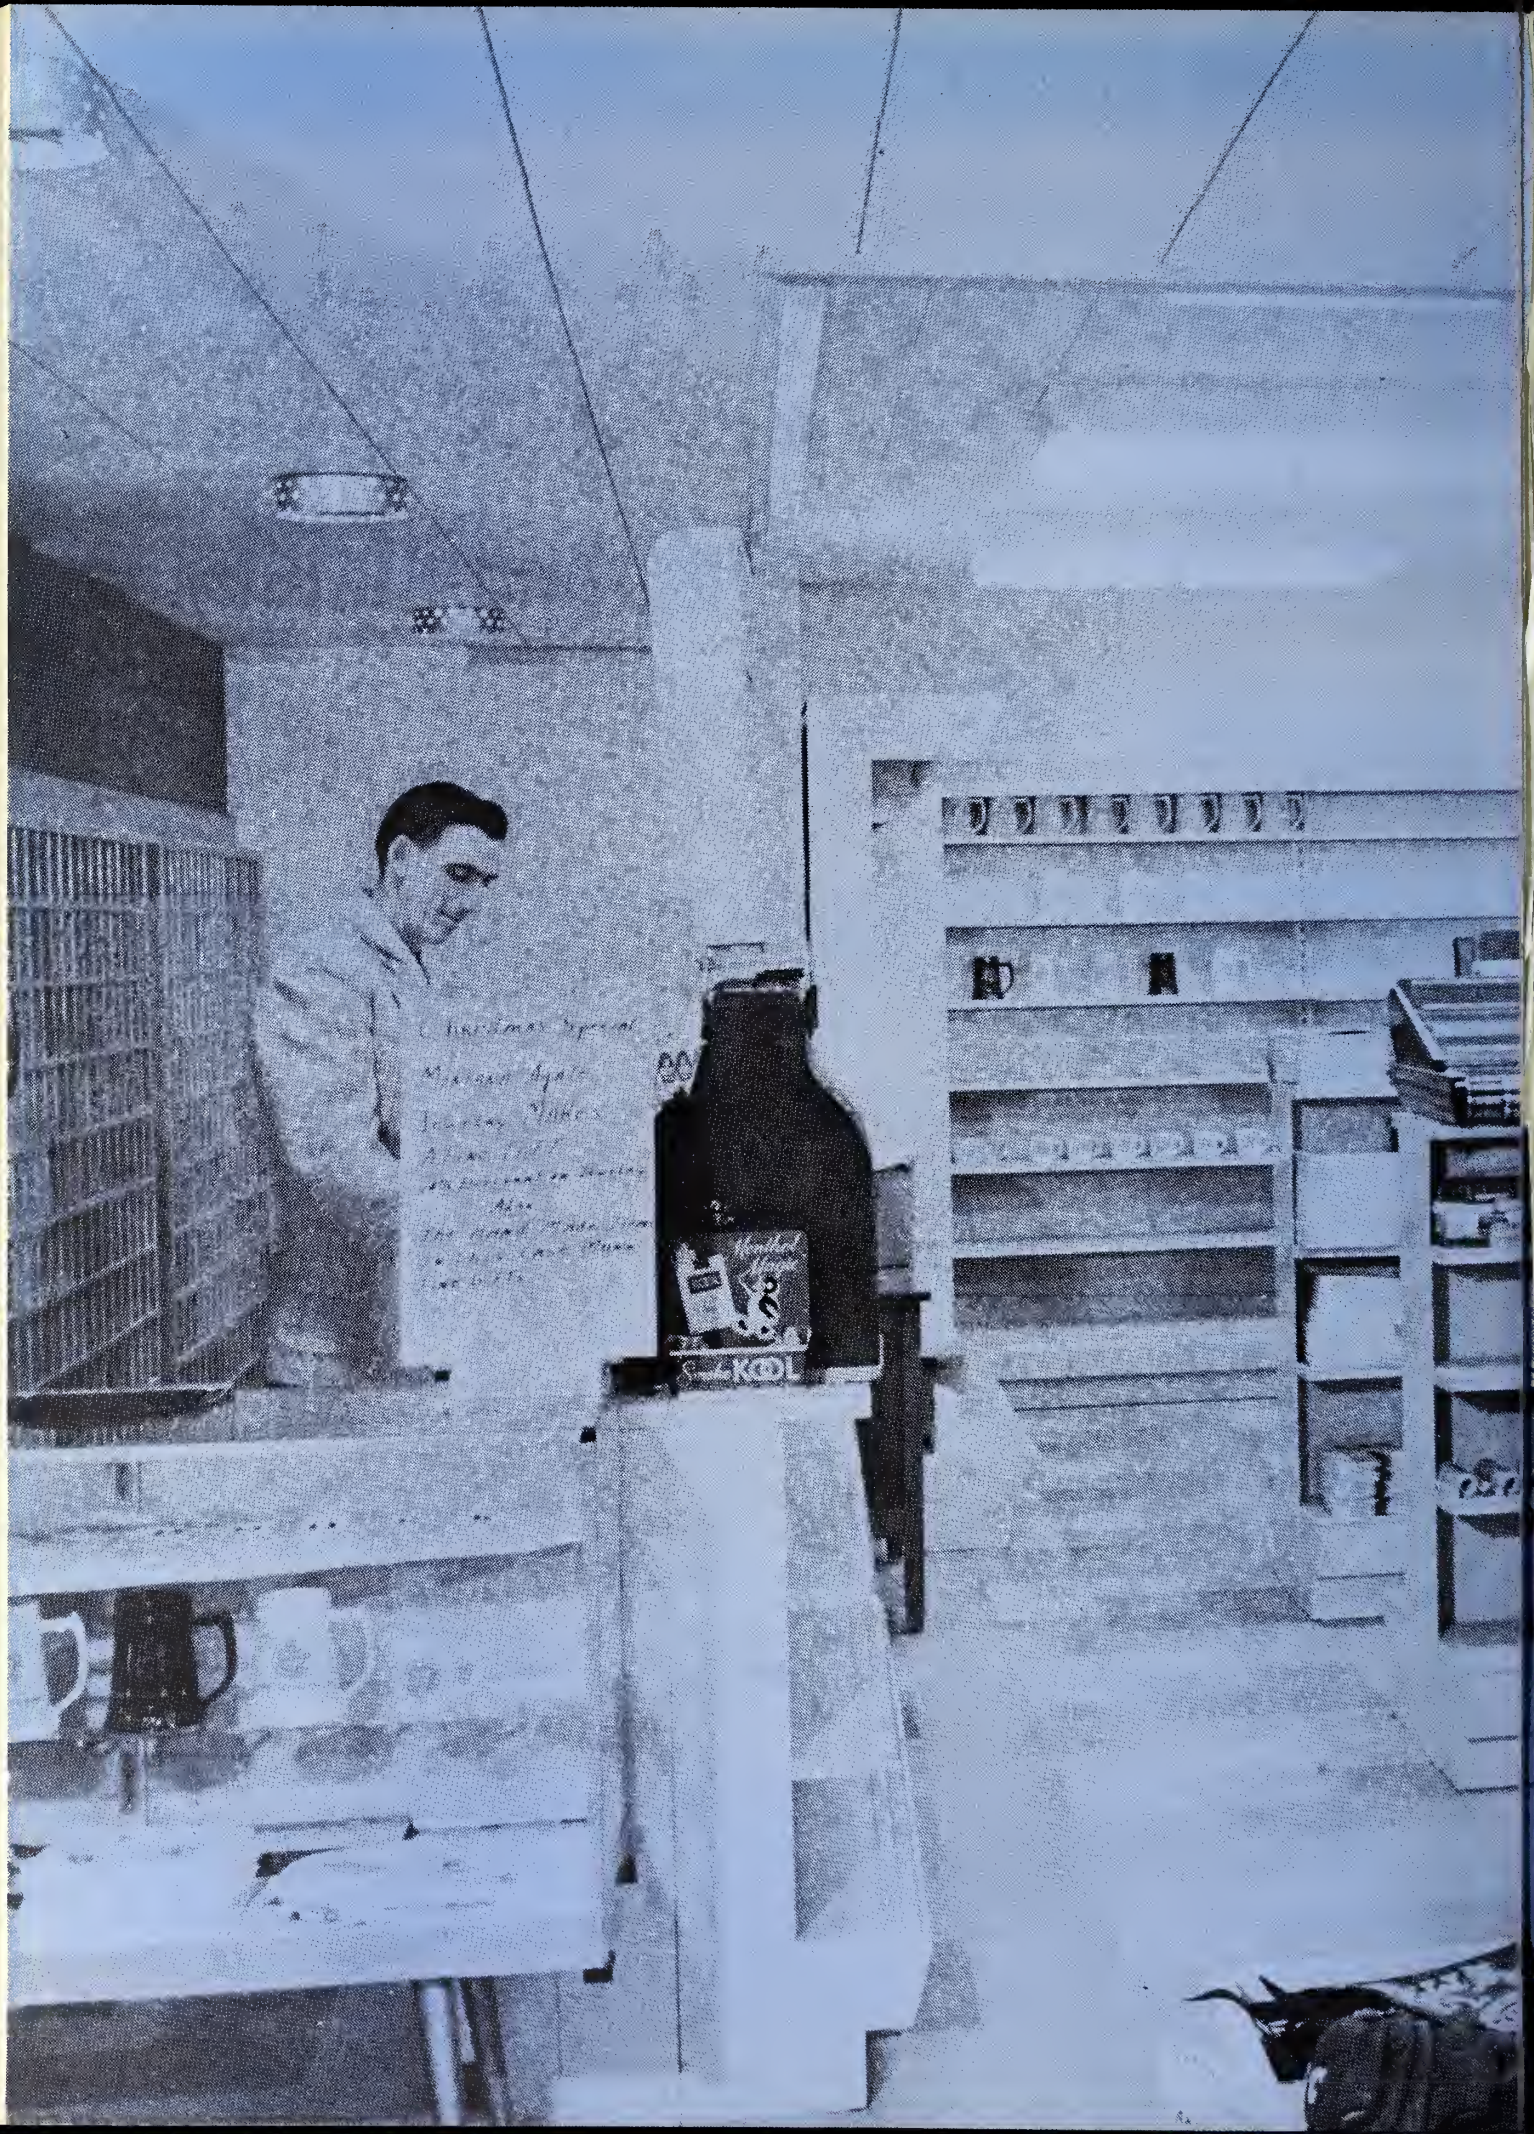

Bob Noble checks a book out of the Library from librarian, Kathy Renwick.

Maureen Hatcher and Rusty Redfield use the library for studying and keeping their grades at a high level.
